Small Change Equals Big Changes

The children of Darfur are the most deprived in the world. Emergency aid disappears into the sand. Children face extreme poverty. The largest aquifer in Africa lies under Darfur but villagers cannot afford to dig for water. Illiteracy is high. Since the violence started, there is no health care. The simplest wound, untreated, leaves people maimed for life. Transport is a donkey. Animals die because there is no veterinary care.

The world has forgotten Darfur.

Conditions in Darfur are inexcusable because something can be done about them.

People are not asking for charity - they are asking for sustainable help to give their children a start in life.

Kids for Kids transforms the lives of children by helping villagers to help themselves, and to be accountable to each other, to provide the simple basics every family needs, but which, in Darfur, are just a dream.

When there is nothing, Kids for Kids finds a way

WE DON'T BELIEVE IN CHARITY ...
WE BELIEVE IN HELPING PEOPLE TO HELP THEMSELVES

Children walk miles for every cup of water

We are showing how to transform children's lives
ONE GOAT AT A TIME

For ten years we have been teaching people to help themselves. Because we listen to the communities and help them in the ways they say work best, because we provide integrated projects, we enable people to transform their own lives; but they cannot do it without our help.

There are 54 Kids for Kids villages in Darfur where we lend 6 goats to a family for 2 years - then pass 6 to another family. Your donation doubles in value. We teach people to look after their animals. Children in our villages wake up to milk every day. There is veterinary care. Healthy animals mean healthy children. Donkeys make travelling possible.

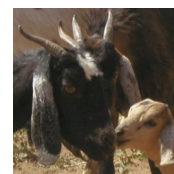

Our midwives save the lives of mothers and babies every day. First aid workers treat simple problems so that they do not become catastrophes. Our latrines mean fewer children suffer diarrhoea and vomiting. Malnourished children are at risk from chest infections - we are teaching their mothers to knit and we are giving warm jumpers for toddlers. Our trees are growing where once there was desert. Most important of all, there is a Kids for Kids handpump nearby. Water that used to take hours to reach and to carry back.

If you give a child a goat, a strong donkey for a midwife, or help us to make sure children sleep under a mosquito net and a blanket, they will wake every morning with the chance of a better future. They will not die of malaria - still the biggest killer in Africa. They will not be malnourished.

It can be done - Kids for Kids is showing how

Please help us to help the children of Darfur
