KIDS FOR KIDS CELEBRATES!

2001 - 2011 - helping where help has been an impossible dream

100 Solar Lanterns - + 6 for the new Children's Shepherds' Committees

Kindergarten Project - equip and build, in partnership with the communities, for 100 children

Kids for Kids was founded in 2001 to help seriously deprived children living in remote villages in Darfur through long term, self sustainable projects identified and run by the communities themselves. No other organisation is currently providing integrated sustainable development projects in Darfur. Aid is devoted to the camps, leaving two thirds of the population struggling to survive in the villages. UNICEF has reported that every child in every village is malnourished - except in Kids for Kids' villages. (October 2009)

We are seeking to fund many more villages over the next 10 years. Families are moving to Kids for Kids villages from the camps because they believe if they do so they will have a chance of giving their children a better future.

When there is nothing; Kids for Kids finds a way.
