

KIDS FOR KIDS

What have we done to help children in the last 12 months?

True to our promise we adopted Eight New Villages last year. Work is ongoing with them. In Abu Sinait (A), Abu Sinait (B), Bargo, Derma, Um Ajaja, Um Shijera, Turra (A) and Um Isheira there are 8,050 children under the age of 10 who face a better future now than their mothers thought possible.

In these villages alone 14,278 people, that's 2,349 families, who are already benefitting from our training, new handpumps, midwives, paravets and human and veterinary drugs. 15% of the poorest families have received donkeys, blankets, mosquito nets, farm tools, donkey ploughs and preventative drugs for their animals. As soon as there is grass again, they will have their goats. Meanwhile they have been collecting hay for summer feed.

Since 2001 we have shown that our policy of providing a broad-based package of integrated grassroots projects incontestably lifts entire communities out of poverty and transforms the lives of individual families directly long term. 2019 has been one of the worst years we have known with soaring inflation, restrictions on access to our funds in the bank which has delayed projects, and a serious lack of fuel which has affected every single aspect of life across the entire country. Despite all this, Kids for Kids is proud to announce exactly what we have accomplished thanks to your support over the last 12 months.

We believe in complete transparency in all that we do.
See below exactly what we provided in Darfur in 2019, plus our plans for 2020.

Our recent practice has been to adopt five villages each year to whom we introduce sustainable projects that lift individual families out of abject poverty and improve the lives of everyone in the village long term. 2019 however was exceptionally hard. We therefore made the decision to adopt eight, instead of five, communities.
